Games People Play

Throughout life each individual has the unpleasant opportunity of dealing with certain problems but they also receive a chance to enjoy the sweet taste of success. Though life offers so many different ways of living, we do tend to want more from it.

This is the reason we have chosen "Tiger Pursuit" for our theme. This is the year we escape from reality into a world full of risks, to a world where adventure is welcomed.

If you are wondering how one might escape to this place, you probably don't know you've already been there. Each time you place a token or quarter into the slot of your favorite video game you are on your way. When you roll those dice hoping to get a big enough number to enable you to "pass go" you are there. Even when you spin the arrow while playing twister and pray that it will land on "left foot green, right hand blue," so you will be able to be twisted up with a prospective mate, you are escaping.

While you play these games you are living in a fantasy, and we all know we will fantasize.

Enjoying a lunch time break, Clark Anderson, Richie Gibbons, and Jill Faldmo play a quick game of Twister.

The Student Council 84-85 "Dared to be Different"

The 1984-85 Student Council dared to be different. Their attributes included an imagination that never stopped. It began with Bazooka Joe, a concept originated by the council to draw attention to the morning announcements. Then along came Homecoming The council, led by Jim Lattler and Dave McCann, came up with a week filled with poetry which struck interest and humor into the hearts of everyone.

The annual Halloween Party lollowed and we witnessed yet another example of the depths of imagination that the Student Council exhibited this year. A first time 3-D movie "The Creature From the Black Lagoon," was shown. The movie was followed by a dance complete with costumed student body. The dance turned out to be a giant success.

Homeroom parties were also a highlight of the school year. Mrs. Morris, Mr. Clark, Mr. Spencer, and Mrs. Huddleston, just to name a few, will all vouch that the crew of eight "know how to PARTY". The homerooms won the parties by winning various imaginative contests. Poem and song contest were favorites. The pumpkin carving contest was the students' favorite.

The spirit at OHS which had been dwindling in past years made a strong comeback through the numerous activities that were initiated by the council. A piece of the 84-85 Student Council will remain in the hearts of all of us for years to come. A gang that "Dared to be Different".

For many of the students at Orem High School, the cafeteria (above) was more than a place to have lunch. Thirty minute lunch breaks were filled with socialization; a place to meet new people and chat with old friends

As a gift from the class of '84, the student lounge (left) took on a new look. Carpeted benches were installed, wallpaper was hung around the ticket window and silk greenery added charm to the surroundings.

Orem High School's auditorium (far left) has recently gone through renovations which included a new stage apron and orchestra pit and additional lighting. The auditorium is used for student assemblies, plays, PTA meetings as well as for community sponsored events

Last year, Orem High School ranked 1st in state in the 3A division. Berdean Jarman, principal of Orem High is very proud of our school's standings and feels confident that Orem High will do just as well this year as it did last

The fact that Orem High School received the Best All Around 3A Award can be greatly credited to the leadership of Principal Berdean Jarman Mr. Jarman ad dresses 1984 graduates at their commencement ceremonics.

-New Additions-

Changes for the Better

Nineteen eighty four eighty five brought about many beneficial changes to Orem High School. Some of these changes involved giving the school a new look while others improved the school academically

New benches in the student lounge as seen on page 18 provided much more space for sitting and students really took advantage of it. The lounge was always filled to capacity during the lunch breaks. Studentbody President, Jun Littler, stated, "The new improvements to the lounge really add to the spirit of the school. To have these decorations stay up so long without getting destroyed is commendable, and an at tribute to the studentbody of Orem High School.

Now that the computer age has blossomed, even Orem High has not been unaffected. Students now have to register through a computer and attendance is monitored by a school computer called "Big Mouth."

To add to all of these modifications, OHS also had a KOHS radio booth installed in the A-Gvm. This booth will provide a more professional environment for transmitting Orem Tiger basketball games over the airways

Geraldine Ferraro wasn't alone in the area of female firsts. Ms. Eris Sumner took on the challenge of setting up the school's computerized attendance, which included keeping track of all student absences through attendance cards on an Apple Computer and monitoring and operating "Big Mouth." According to Principal Berdean Jarman, Ms. Sumner "has done an unprecendented job in pioneering our computerized attendance program, never before attempted at Orem High. She has, without question, been a valuable asset to the administration of our school."

Community firsts benefited many Orem High students whose schedule did not coincide with school buses. The UTA, approved by the Provo-Orem area in November elections runs a full service within and between the cities and also to Salt Lake City.

Improvements are continually being made. Those mentioned are noticeable, but one must not overlook all of the efforts of individual teachers and students whose main objective is to improve our surroundings each year. No matter how small, all of these 'new additions' are meaningful and important

The Provo-Orem metropolis welcomes the UTA, providing bus service to the area for the first time in the twin cities' history

We've all heard the stories about the five and dime stores where our parents used to buy candy bars for 5 cents, a 45 record for 35 cents, and other odd trinkets for no more than $1. Times have changed and so has the standard of living. Years from now we will tell our children of the 'good 'ol days' when we had only to pay $4.50 for a movie ticket and their mouths will fall open in amazement as they wish they could pay the prices we paid.

A Helping Hand

The Parent Teacher Student Association, is a group of parents and students who help improve our school and keep parents aware of what is going on at Orem High School. Led by President Linda Fleming this years PTSA kept very busy with activities and plans to better Orem High.

A clean up project at the beginning of the year was led by the PTSA. Some of the members act as teacher aids for many of the teachers here at Oreio. They did clerical work to help the counselors and secretaries during registration days, and helped with yearbook sales. They also sponsored teacher appreciation week by giving a gift to each teacher every day.

Carene Jordan is in charge of the newsletter that is distributed monthly to families of Orem High students Another responsibility of the PTSA is to conduct the reflections contest. This year's topic was "What sparks my imagination

Brigham Young University — National Champions!!

BYU has had great success this year. Not only did they have the number one football team in the nation, they had one of their students crowned Miss America for 1985. After 62 years of playing football, BYU finally claimed a national title. Now to be less than number one won't do. BYU finished the season with a 13-0 record. They received 28 of 40 first-place votes and 579 points in the UPI poll to win by an 18 point spread over 2nd place. Washington.

Sharlene Wells, a former Miss BYU, was crowned Miss America of 1985. After the Vanessa Williams scandal, Sharlene seemed like what the pageant was looking for She was raised in the Mormon church and her father is a general authority of the church. She also has unquestionable morals that she isn't afraid to defend in public. We now have a Miss America the United States of America can be proud of — especially the people of Utah

Terrorism

A driver and vehicle wired to explode, sped towards the U.S. Embassy in Last Beirut in September, 1984. Fortunately, a well-aimed shot by a bodygu and promoted an explosion before contact with the building, keeping the casualties low.

Kuwait Airways Flight #221 was hijacked by paper-masked vouths carrying guns. The hijackers demanded the release of 17 tellow terrorists that were being held in Kuwaiti jails. The terrorists killed one American before an answer was received to prove their sincerity in the matter. When they learned of the remotion to their demands, they killed another American Indira Gandi was assassinated by her own guards. Mrs Gandhi's death produced such a tragedy: some 2,000 Indians died as a result of the sectarian violence that followed. Her son. Rajii Gandhi, was instantly responsible for a country in an uproar of violence and anger.

McDonald's Massacre

Shortly before 4 o'clock on July 18, 1984, one of the worst one-man massacres in the history of the United States took place. As James Huberty walked into the one-story, red-brick McDonalds in San Ysidro, Galisornia, he calmly started shooting into a crowd of four dozen people. His first burst of gunfire killed 21 people and wounded 15 others. Omar. Herandez made it as far as the bike rack before a single shot instantly took his life. Other people trying to run to safety were shot down. Huberty ordered everyone to the to the floor. He killed anyone that moved or made a sound. He paused frequently to switch radio stations, drink sodas, and reload his gun It was almost an hour before the police were able to get a clear shot at Huberty, and the paramedics could begin to sort the living from the dead. In an hour ind a half, 19 of the four dozen were wounded and 21 were dead or dying. On the day of the massacre, Huberty told his wife that "Society had their chance" and that he was going "hunting for humans."

Ethiopia Tragedy

In November the world started to realize that people were starving in Africa. Tapes and photographs flooded American television sets asking for money and food to be sent. Ten years of drought and civil war are partly responsible for the six million starving Ethiopians. Over 42 percent of the nation's 40 million are malnourished, and 22 million have left their homes in search of food and aid. Thousands have already died from starvation and over one million are expected to die this year.

After two years of appealing to relief organizations, Ethiopia began to receive aid. Individuals held lund raisers and lasts to earn money to send. West Germany donated $6 million, Italy promised to build a hospital, Canada and Australia sent tens of thousands of tons of grain. The United States has sent $100 million in food aid since October 1, 1984

For many of the Ethiopians, this aid came too late and many more won't even see it. There are problems with food distribution because of the natives that live miles from the nearest road

Something went wrong at the Union Carbide pesticide plant in Bhopal, India and toxic gasses leaked, killing thousands of people and animals. A tank containing 45 tons of methyl isocyanate started escaping into the air, creating a dense fog of the lethal gas

The gasses drifted over the nearby towns, killed hundreds as they slept. It continued to spread across a 's square mile radius of the city. As news spread of what many termed a plague, a nuclear bomb, others an earthquake, thousands left their homes to flee the fumes. Some died after reaching salety, from previously breathing the fumes. At the end of only one week, 2,500 had died $3,000 remained critically dl. In all, 150,000 were treated at hospitals and clinics, thousands never made it that tar

OHS Spirit

School spirit is evident in many different ways. Crowded bleachers of hudded up, drenched fans during a downpour at a football game show spirit. Supporting embraces given to play- is after a defeat in a game show spirit. Wild clothing, rambunctious behavior, painted faces, point pons and mini-megaphones show the spirit and pride students have in our school

There are several occasions throughout the year when students have the opportunity to act as a unit, supporting teammates and fellow school members in their attempt to make Orem High shine. Many club members and other students volunteered time at the beginning of the year to help clean up the school grounds to make OHS look its best. Spirit Builders

This year's assemblies were a great improvement over years past. A creative Student Council and talented resources to back them up, made all the difference. There were six major assemblies and countless pep assemblies this year. They introduced up and coming dances or games and were a long awaited break from the classroom.

Studentbody President Jim Littler is quoted as saying, "Assemblies are a way to keep school spirit at a high level, and besides everyone has a lot of fun doing them. They break the monotons of school

V P Dave McCann had this to say, "No one can ever know just how much effort it takes to put on one of these things until they actually do it

Skits throughout the veir were enhanced by Breit Bradshaw's fairly imitations. At the Hi Week issembly he played the good witch and Allison Fleming played Dorothy in a portrayal of the Wizard of Oz.

Creative impetitions directed by the cheerleaders kept the rowds in an uproor during pep assemble.

Behind the Scenes

Orem High School is known for its wonderful theatrical productions. Every year, audiences attend the performances sit through an hour or two of professional entertainment, and leave knowing they enjoyed the show because of the smooth way in which it was presented. But, a large portion of those audiences never stop to think of what makes a smooth performance.

Spectators don't see the hours of labor that takes place before a show Stage crew members work together to build the sets for this year's musicals and plays; "Blithe Spirit," "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," "Wait Until Dark," "Once Upon A Mattress," and "Song Shop" The skillful students create authentic masterpieces that help portray the scenes exactly as they should be

For the musicals, an orchestra group is needed. They practice by themselves and with the cast, so that the music and acting will work together. Tryouts take place and recall lists are posted. More tryouts, then finally, the chosen cast begins rehearsals. Every day after school, for sessions of four or five hours, they practice acting and memorizing their lines

Costuming, props, and make-up are essential parts of any production

The directors are the wizards that magically bring all these ingredients together and come up with a professional show. Orem is proud to have two of the best in our drama department. Neal Barth and Gerald Elison Both of these men have given unselfishly of their time to teach Orem's students and help them put on a production that they can be proud of

Each person involved, sacrifices untold hours to put on a show that will please an audience. These people — (the behind-the-scenes, before-curtain-time-people) never receive the recognition that they deserve. Without them, we would see plain people reciting their lines in dull, monotone voices standing on a hollow, empty stage. Instead, we see vivid characters in full-color actually living an experience in the real setting, right before our eyes

Sharing a chuckle over a dramatic piece, Mr. Barth and Mr. Elison point out a funny scene

Hey You

On January 25, 1985 approx in itely 100 people assembled at Tim Brook's house and held the first "Hey You" party. Just ask around and chances are that you will find someone who was there. Everyone who went had a blast, participating in such at tivities as Body Boggle, Uno, Twister, or just dancing to the music. For thosi partiers who were also movie goers, the movies "Strange Brew" and "Fiddler on the Roof" were shown. The hosts of the evening were Tim Brooks, Doug Berrett (alias "The village idiot"), David Browning, Mark "cuddles" Berrett and Bryan Mangum. The hosts also held a "Hey You" rafile. These lucky people won the following prizes.

1st: Doug Barlow -- "Hey You" T-Shirt

2nd Per Lovgren - picture taken with hosts

Ird Doug Moon - 25 cents

A fourth place was also awarded to an anonymous female from Provo, who laid her claim to a twin pack of Daisy Gillette disposable razors

-After School

Busy All Day Long

During the average high school student's day, a student will attend school, come home and do one of about a million things. These after school activities range from taking a n p to going skiing and everything in between

Of course, a great portion of OHS students go to work after school, a seemingly popular pastime of quite a few people. But there are an endless amount of other activities that people will be found doing after school including going to the Res

Center, going to the Mall, watching IV going shopping, eating, running errands, visiting friends, gossiping on the telephone, or staying at school to participate in the many available extra curricular activities

With all of these activities plus about a thousand more, it's no wonder that today's high school students are so busy. On top of all this, students must find time to accomplish enormous loads of homeworks and still manage to stay awake in class the next day

tting the slopes is a favorite after school (or during school) activity for many OHS idents such as Jason Herring and David Wimmei

After school, Keri Anderson and Carol Worthen do one of their regular "run of the mall" activities

The Computer Age At Its Best

In the field of High Technology at OHS this year such classes as Computer Science I and II, Word and Data Processing and Electronics were offered. In the past year alone, computer technology has become one of the leading businesses in the world. The age of computers has arrived

Mr. Lawlor, a Computer Science teacher, firmly believes that computers will be one of the dominant fators in the future world

Lypically, a Computer Science student is assigned to write a program dealing with daily life. For example, a student might be assigned to write a program computing compound interest. If programmed correctly, these programs can instantly compute complex problems in seconds

With the technology offered by these advanced classes one can keep up with the fast growing, quickly moderniz mg world

Future Einsteins of America

There is more to the Orem High Science Department than Chemistry, Biology, and Physics. Our school offers a range of courses from Aerospace Engineering, to Electronics

The Science Department offers more A.P. classes it in any other department in school with A.P. classes offered in B.o. ags. Chemistry, and Physics. An Important Field for the 80's

For all students with high aspirations in the mathematics field. Orem High has a great program to offer Regarding with Algebra I, an average student can progress through the math courses until he or she is in Calculus Once there, students learn the more advanced methods of arithmetic, and can tackle a math problem that takes up to half a page with relative ease

During a year of Calculus in OHS, the students prepare themselves for the A P test at the end of the year It they pass the test, they then earn a large credit. It can be quite an advantage to be educated in mathematics a field that is rapidly a wing

Become a well rounded individual, take English

In the OHS English department, a variety of classes are available to the students interested in gaining a knowledge of good literature, writing skills, and an extended vocabulary. Any book you can imagine can be found in the English classes Everything under the sun from "A Tale of Two Cities" to "Maintenance and Care of a Civil Wai Rifle" can be found in our English teacher's rooms, and the teachers have read every one of them at least twice. For those of us who choose not to read a "classic," a Harlequin Romance can be found at almost any bookstore, although you won't be "enriched"

Creative Writing, a class where creativity is encouraged through the numerous themes that are written, is taught by Mrs. Mortenson This year, Reading for College and Writing for College were aftered as an extra help for students planning to attend a university that weren't involved in the AP program Tina Howard, Tess Morris, and Phyllis Bestor were the teachers who taught these classes. Some other classes offered that give English credit are Humanities, Uncommon Man, Science Fiction, Closing the Circle, and Speed Reading

Physical Education offers something for everyone

This year the physical education department offered many exciting courses students could take. They had the opportunity to involve themselves in practically every sport this year, from football to dance

An average P E student basically follows this routine, getting dressed, stretching, recreating, showering, and re-dressing. At the end of each term, a test is given, dealing with the basics of a specified sport

If the basic P.E. class did not appeal to the student a number of alternatives were offered, bowling rating as a top favorite. Kay Hansen recorded a 63 for her final bowling score. Dance I and II found shoth ladies and gents leaping and strutting to obtain P.E. credit. Weightlifting was also another P.E. credit class. Mr. Downey instructed muscle searching students as they lifted and pulled enormous pounds. While Mr. Alarotu kept his students running and complaining over difficult tests, the students improved, and now, thanks to him, they think they are olympic lifters.

Orem's Forum

The main goal of the year's journalism staff was to serve and inform the students and faculty of Orem High. To achieve this goal they tried to focus on the news in all areas of interest — world, national, and local.

They touched on controversial issues, such as, suicide, school prayer, drunk driving, and sex education. There were also some special center sections done in 1984 — the elections and the events of the vent These, along with student features, created a well rounded format.

The staff, led by Kristin

Williams as editor-in-chief, is involved in every step, from the original ideas to the finished product. The first step is to cover individual beats so that they will be aware of everything going on at Orem High From here, everyone concentrates on their individual areas of speciality; the pictures are taken, ads sold, the articles researched and written, and the pages laid out. When all these things are completed they are taken to the printers to be published The final step is to deliver them to the studentbody

The Sound of Music Rings at Orem

Orem High is known for its fine music program. The concert band, symphonic band, jazz band and orchestra, headed by teachers John Donner and Lynn Poulson, consistently exceeded the limits of competition in the state

The choirs, on the other hand, are a class in themselves. Their singing is unmatched; it is good enough to have our choirs tour all over the country. The members themselves are united as friends as well as fellow students. You can't help but notice them in the halls. Such comradery makes A'Cappella, Chorale, Chamber and Show, (and the list goes on and on), superb

The best result, though, is when the two combine and with the drama department, put on a musical. The musicals at Orem. High are the best around. But with such a talented and classy music department, what would you expect?

Entertainment of the Best Kind

In a show and chamber choir, many long hard hours must be spent perfecting singing and dancing techniques. This year as all others, the Show and Chamber choir is in great demand for performances, with a very good reputation. The thirty-three member group attained superior scores at state and region competition and once again proved the high quality performance that the Show and Chamber choirs are capable of under the direction of J. Preston Wooli

Madrigals, a forty member singing choir consisting of all girls, achieved a superior rating in region. This was one of the Madrigals groups' highlights this year, as they clearly dominated. In all aspects, the Madrigals are a talented group with a lot of "class."

Woolf, consists of 90 experienced singers. These singers were good enough to be invited to two invitational festivals and performed well at them. The highlight of Chorale was when the group was able to travel to and sing at Disneyland last December.

Singin' and Travelin'

A'Cappella, It's the ultimate class for singers in high school. Many hours of practice must be spent to become a member of this elite group. You must be fairly financially stable due to the fact that it can be quite an expensive hobby

As an A'Cappella member, one must be ready to tour to practically any place in the world, which, like the out fits worn, must be paid out of each members pocket

The year of 1984-85 for Orem's VCappella was a great one, for many reasons. First of all, they had a chance to go to region competition as they do every year. The biggest achievement this year was that they got a superior at the Heritage festival held at the University of Utah Second, they got to travel like it was going out of style. The 92-person singing group also got to go to such places as the Republication Convention which was held last summer Daraig acir mai. April hey were fortunate enough to go on tour in the Mid-Western States, including the cities of St. Louis. Missouri, Nauvoo Illinois, and Indianapolis, Indiana

Language Lovers

The French club has many cultural activities throughout the year. The members cat French food, watch brench films and even listen to French guest speakers. The meetings are a chance for all the different classes to income another (Parle! Francais S'il yous plant)

The Spanish Club, headed by ad visor, Mr. Lysager, aimed most of their efforts at learning Spanish and having lun at the same time. Many "fiestas" (alias parties) were held to promote the culture of all Spanish speaking countries. Everyone who was in the Spanish Club had a great time and valuable experiences.

Frau Foulger, chief advisor of the German Club, adores anyone who takes her German classes. Those students who take her classes, learn a lot and en joy themselves. German students are a special breed, with an uncanny ability to enjoy learning.

Organizations Of Excellence

Orem High's Key Club, whose main purpose is to help and serve others, is an opportunity available to any interested student. Headed by ad visor, Brian Ostler, Key Club helped raise money for charity. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Key Club is known for fun parties and helpful service projects. This year's presidency was President Mike Salzetti, Vice President Tim Crabb, Secretary Julie Dowdle, and Treasurer Michelle Malan

Students Getting Involved

In the FBLA this year, many iccomplishments in the field of business were made by OHS students. Led by Mrs. Honeycutt, business students par ficipated in such activities as data processing, public speaking, job interviews impromptu speeches, and many other related events. Some of the outstanding business students were Stephen Roger son, who achieved the award of Sterl ing Scholar and Mary Pratt, who place ed second and seventh respectively in Type I National Compentions

Talent That Soars

Behind the scenes of the plays which were presented, is the Orem High Stage Crew, advised by Mr Elison. The students build props, sets, and scenery in preparation for the plays and other activities. Students involved in stage crew also do the lighting for school productions and activities.

The Drama students keep busy during the year with two plays and two musicals. The performers learn acting techniques by in-class practice. They have assignments in improvisation dramatic reading, and mime to help them perfect their skills. Under the watchful eyes of Mr Barth and Mi Elison, the school productions are always great successes

KOHS fought for their air waves this year. A religious group claiming that KOHS could not be heard past the point of the mountain wanted to take over the station's frequency. Devoted listeners were encouraged to write in from the Salt Lake area to prove this untrue and save KOHS. Fortunately our radio station is still going strong with new programs and a strong listen in the line.

Orem's Fiving Tigers, commonly known as the Aviation department, is bidding adieu until an unknown time in, hopefully, the near future. Unfortunately, we will lose Mr. Poast to the Juntor High next year and we will no longer enjoy the education of aviation

While they were in operation however, the Aviation club participated in some fun activities such as going on fieldtrips, taking part in an exhibit at in educational fair, and studying for a pilot's license which is possible after three years of very hard work. Many students will surely miss participating in this fine organization, as well as miss its advisor. Robert Poast

That's Entertainment

Here's a bit of trivia. Who went to almost every basketball baseball and football game this year, home and iway? If you guessed Bill Delaney you re wrong Would you believe Mark Lambert? Well, if you knew he was Orem High School's 1984-85 Tiger mascot, you might have been able to inswer that crucial question. Mark did a wonderful job this year, helping his cheerleaders excite the crowd riding his unit yele, providing spirit, and making all sports activities as fun as possible Mark deserves a lot of thanks for doing a GRRRREAT job'.

This year's OHS Tigerettes led by Susan Jen on were dedicated and hard workers. They produced halftime enter taniment at the football and basketball games and did a great job spreading school spirit. Special thanks is due to the OHS Tigerettes of 1984-85 for all their hard work.

Lach May, approximately 150 boys and girls gather and try out for the Orchests squad. When the final team is chosen by Collette Smith, the head adsor, practice begins. Such chireographic pieces like jazz, tapidance, badet and modern routines are learned. Once perfected, the squad puts on performances for the public and then for a grand limate, a trip to California.

All Tempa-Cheer

You see them at practically every sporting event held. They are a lively bunch of attractive girls known as Orein High's Cheer and Songleaders and they're about the best in the entire state of Utah

What makes OHS Cheerleaders so fantastic? First of all, they are very spirited and work well as a team Secondly, they practice like crazy. A basic day for an Orem Cheerleader involves at least three hours of demanding practice

What are the results of all this perseverance? Awards — and plenty of them. In their region, Orem High's Songleaders excelled. Placing first in superstar and sweepstake competition, Orem's Songleaders laid their claim to their region's first place trophy

Fo sum it all up, Orem High School has some of the best cheerleaders and songleaders in the state and a lot to be proud of. The way they promote enthusiasm and school spirit makes all crowds and audiences excited and ready for victory attentions.

The Tigerama Staff consisted of an unusual menagerie of students, not an uncommon find in a high school journalism class. The many grueling hours spent producing the yearbook proved to be a learning experience for most, some learned they really weren't cut out for working under the pressure of deadlines.

In order to produce the final product you now hold in your hands, hundreds of rolls of film must be developed and thousands of pictures must be printed. Layouts are drawn up and captions must be written for each of the photographs used. Copy, a time consuming and important part of the book, is often not appreciated until many years after the book is published and most people have forgotten things they once thought they would never forget!

Orem's Golf Team Completes a "Par-fect" Season

The golf team had a spectacular season this year, it was the first year that the Tigers were able to capture the state title.

Rvan Rhees and Phil Tucker were the "Golden Bears" of the Golden Tigers this season, gaining low-medalist honors — Rhees taking first in state and Tucker third. Rhees also took ninth place in the Junior Golf Association Tournament

Rhees and Tucker were not the only valuable players on the team. Their rankings are as follows: No. 1 — Rhees, 2 — Tucker, No. 3 — Brad Fillmore, No. 4 — Irvin Hale, No. 5 — Jeff Ward, No. 6 — Jeff Carter, Manager — John Beck

With players such as these, victory was forseen. In match play Orem finished at 7-2. Region proved to be a success when the Tigers placed second. To cap it all off, the Tigers took the first place trophy at the state tourney.

Falking with coach Mick Peterson, he had this to say. "The strength of the team this year was our consistency. Although the team was young and inexperienced we became better each match."

This has to be one of the greatest years of golf at Orem."

Gliding to Success

Led by Coach Walkinshaw, Orem High School's Cross Country team produced another successful year. The boys' team, who finished first in region, proved to be very competitive statewide by placing second behind Murray in the Championship meet. Individually Mike Fisher had a very successful year as Region champ and State runner up. Next year may prove to be just as successful for the boys with strong returning varsity runners as Troy Blan Roger Ridd, Brian Weber and Dave Shuley

The girls' team didn't disappoint anyone either. With a strong second place in region, the girls also did well in State Competition. Senior Susan Christiansen was runner up in both Region and State. With a lot of potential, the girls' team has excellent returning runners: Susan Cutler, Elaine Hull, Jenny Merrill and Kate Sorensen

The Agony of the Cleat

Tiger fotball in the '84 season was almost an exact replica of last year's play. Orem losing the region title by a game, and only stopped in the stare tourney by the team that would go on to take it

The #1 team in our eyes just wasn't #1 in everyone elses. Although they had the highest points per game average in the region (32), and were also known for their powerful defense, local press just wasn't giving Orem the recognition they deserved. There were a couple of times the Golden Tigers weren't even ranked To any ordinary team this would have been devastating, but we are talking about the Golden Tigers of Orem High Heads turned when the Tigers were seen battling Provo for the region title. Provo won only after a lucky break in double overtime.

Because of a 3-way tie in region 7

the Tigers were unjustly thrust to fourth place going into state. Seated lower than they should have been, the papers were again eating crow when the Tigers beat region 8 champion, Springville. Finally, it was out: Orem was pretty good. Provo and Orem were now the only region 7 teams still fighting for the state title

It is said that even the best of teams experience an off day. It was bound to happen sometime, and for Orem it was when they played West. Things just weren't going right that cold and dreary day. Although the crowd support was tremendous. West stifled the dreams of the state trophy for Orem. For the players, there is no consolation in the thought that West did go on to take the state title, in their hearts and in ours the Golden Tigers of 84-85 were the best ever

With a first place tie in Region and third place in State, Orem's volleyball had a good season this year. Aithough this team was prone to injuries they still came out on top

Terr Jo Walker suffered a prolonged back injury. Kristen Wil curis knee ligaments were severely torn which kept her out the whole season, and Jane Reynolds ankle was giving her problems throughout the season.

Feam Captain Momilani Meyers had this to say about the season: "We had a lot of tough breaks with injuries and all, but throughout the year everybody kept the fighting spirit and we did O K

Kristen Williams, Co-Captain is a three year varsity player and a former all-region player. She would in all probability have been an all-region and all-state volleyball and basketball player this year had it not been for a serious knee injury. The injury occurred in practice and required total reconstructive surgery which kept her out of sports for the whole year. Kristen's role on the squad was obviously changed but she still remained a leader and the heart of the team.

Kristen looks back: "It was hard to just sit and watch them play especially when they were in the State Tournament. But it was fun to support the team, they have lots of talent. The Coaches were supportive of all

The Shooting Stars

Led by outstanding athletes like Cindy Lindsay, Nancy Hawkins and Danielle Late OHS's girl's basketball team had another successful season

With a win-loss record of 18-6, the squad maintained a team effort throughout the season

Cindy Lindsay, who was All State, All Region and All American, played a key role in the Tiger's success. Nancy Hawkins and Danielle Tate, who both made the all region honorable mention squad, were also major contributors to the team's dominance. The rest of the team played very well also, proving that the squad wasn't made up of just 2 or 3 players

Of his successful team, Coach Paul Clark said, "They always played very well. The six games we lost were only lost by a total of sixteer points. We were also the only team to beat Ogder this year. Overall, they played outstanding as a team and continued the great tradition of OHS's girl's basketball

Finishing the season on a good note, the team won 5 of their last 6 games and finished fifth in the state

The 1985 Boys basketball team coached by Dick Belliston placed third in region and lost to Skyview in the State 3A tournament. Six foot four senior Bill Herlin, collected all-state academic awards and represented OHS on the 3A all-state team. Other seniors on the team were: Brett Bradshaw, Mike Wolfgramm, Matt Bahr, Clark Permann, and Ryan Rhees. Starters returning next year to compete in the 4A category will be Doug Larsen, Mike Peterson, and Ben Bradshaw Coach Belliston enjoyed working with this year's tram, about which he stated, "They were a versatile bunch of guys. I was able to substitute frequently and I could vary the starting line up."

A Zaney Tradition

Donkey Basketball is a sport that combines the American pastime of basketball, with the lovable, sometimes stubborn donkey. Take this special combination, add some brain-dead students along with a crazy faculty team, and you have Orem High's favorite tradition

Such obsenties as, "Move your 'ass'!!" were interjected throughout the game as the crowd caught the spirit of the event. Although the more experienced faculty team won, even the students enjoyed the game. The fans were packed in like sardines, and they enjoyed every minute of it!!

The high scorers for the student teams were Jim "Dr. Hook" Littler and Wally "Hoops" Brown Jim initiated the student scores to start with an incredible 25 foot hook shot, thus the nickname, and Wally bombarded the scoreboard astride "Speedy" the wonder donkey. Todd "Mr. Unit" Olsson and Danny "The Lion Hearted Leonhardt were the stars of the White team. Dave "The scoring machine" McCann and Kay Hansen were royalty, voted most likely to "fall off" The faculty teams most valuable players were clearly Garland "The Bricklayer" Fitzgarrald, and Cecil "I'd rather be home with my wife. Louder

The cheerleaders were in top form again this year, but the night peaked when as the final secon is expired, students from both the White and Blue teams assaulted Fitzgarrald on his donkey and knocked him off his 'ass

Sugar and Spice and Everything Nice?

Powder puff football is a long awaited release for our senior girls. Football fever engulfs even the gals and it proves that they aren't quite as soft and innocent as they would have us believe

Coaches this year were the legendary Dennis "The Bear" Hemond and Cecil Bumm" Louder. Hemond's white team prevailed in the end taking a second victory over Louder's blue team. You can see the genius in both these experts as they explain the strategy in each of their complex game plans.

We bit the outside with quick passes early in the gan is to bring the cornerbacks up I hen we went "Hail Marv" and aimed at the sun, said Coach Hemond, "That's what gave us the edge."

Couch Louder said, "Our plan of attack was a simple one We would flood the zones and use our quickness to its ut most advantage. Unfortunate ly it didn't work, they were just too strong defensively."

Blue receiver Kay Fingers' Hansen, comments on the game. The white team played a great defensive game but they only won because they had longer fingernails."

Mr. Fitzgarraid, a consistantly high secure in recent years of donkey basketball, might make the pro's if he could only talk the NBA into using donkeys

Swimmers Strive for Excellence

This year's boys' swim team ended their year taking fourth place in Region competition and thirteenth in State, a great improvement over seasons past. The girls kept up with the boys, taking fourth in Region and finishing twelfth in State

The Diving Squad had an excellent season and accumulated several points for some close meets. Mike Lewis and Angie Daniels were clear assets to the team

Coach Miller stated "The kids tried hard, and that is what matters. I feel confident and excited about next season"

Stretch to the Limit

This year, the school had an outstanding gymnastics team led by coach Brent Heninger and assistant coach Barbara Jo Ekins. The team captains this year were Alice Skousen and Kelly Blinzinger. The girls took region and hopefully they'll take the state championships ding yet demanding experience for the girls, but they remained united as a team and got along great. Practice was held every day until 4 30 and sometimes the team came back from 6-8 in the evening for extra practice. The girls worked double time as coaches making suggestions that might improve a teammate's performance.

Coach Heninger summed up the diligence of the team by saying, "I have never seen so much unselfish time spent to help each other to perfect their various tricks and routines as has been shown this year by the Orem Gymnastics Team It has been such a positive experience for me to be a part of this organization

What's 'Love' Got To Do With It?

Each spring the sounds of balls thudding and people grunting can be heard floating from the tennis courts. This year was no exception as the Orem High tennis team hit the courts sporting one of the best teams in recent memory. The tigers returned eleven members from last year's region championship team providing lots of experience and talent.

Six seniors provided the leadership for the tigers as the team proved itself to be a powerhouse in region competition and a najor challenger on the state level. Stand outs Mike Wolfgramm and Jim Oyler led the way shredding their opponents time and time again while always encouraging and helping the younger players

I've teams success was greated by due to the tremendous depth. Instead of having just four or five good players and the rest just being there for the ride, all of the players were fairly close and this provided tough practices and a challenge to constantly improve

Without a returning starter, Orem began the season with an inexperienced squad with talent. As a JV team in the 84 season, they had registered a 15-0-2 record Following an opening season win of 5-1 over Payson, the team took on three tough 4-A teams. They lost a snowed-out game with Skyline 1-0, and a physical game with Viewmont 3-2. Bountiful proved to be offensively the most explosive with a win over the Tigers -2. The team their Pleasant Grove and won 1-0.

They opened Region with a 0-0 tre with Provo, despite thoroughly dominating the game. They lost 2-0 to pre-season favorite American Fork—the next two games were tied 1-1 with both Timp View and Mountain View, though Orem should have won both games as the team began to jell offensively. A disappointing loss to Provo 1-0 followed. The Tigers blew Wasatch Academy away with a score of 7-0, and look forward to a rematch with American Fork

Entering the 1985 season, OHS's Baseball team has high hopes of another great year Led by such outstanding players as Brad Eagar (catcher), Jim Fowler (3rd base), Jim Hoyal (center field), Kyle Hoover, (pitcher), and Joe Evans (pitcher), the squad has an excellent chance to do very well in region

Brad Fagar, one of the two best players in the state, has been offered scholarships by numerous major colleges. He has been on the 1st team in region the last 2 years, and has hopes of repeating this honor again.

Jim Fowler and Jim Hoyal, the two other 3 year return starters, were also outstanding as they both made 2nd team all region last year. Other talented players were Kyle Hoover and Joe Evans, two returning pitchers from last year.

Of the baseball squad, Coach Greg Sheide stated, "The outlook for this year looks very good. If pitching remains consistent, we'll be successful. Were a good defensive team and play well together."

Overall, OHS Boys Baseball Team has potential for a fantastic year. With dedicated players and team spirit, this squad feels excited about the prospects of a state 3A Championship

"We have a lot of excellent athletes out for Track this year. The interest level is extremely high, and I'm excited about the prospects of an exceptional season." He spoke confidently about the team's potential and depth and about how even his youngest team members were performing at record breaking rates during pre seas in practice. Excuses, excuses, excuses!!!

Failing to complete homework or to make it to school on time is sometimes hard to admit for the struggling student. To make up for shortcomings such as these, students create "believable" excuses, hoping to gain understanding from their teachers. When asked why they don't have an assignment to hand in, or why they are late for school, students may reply with excuses like these

"It was devoured in the garbage disposal."

"My pen broke and there weren't any writing utensils in the house, and the snow was too deep for me to go buy one"

My cat had puppies on it. Ooops! I mean luttens."

Some spies mistook it for a top secret government file

A Native of Canada, An Asset to Orem High

Mona Peterson is one of the Home Economics teachers at Orem High School. She teaches Needle Arts, parenting, Child Development, and Interior Design and has been responsible for decorating the Orem High construction house for the last six years.

A native of Canada, Mrs. Peterson was born in Stirling, Southern Alberta. As a widow with four children she moved to Provo to attend BYU to earn a Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics. She graduated in 1969 and has been at Orem High ever since.

In 1970 she remarried and now has four children, four step-children and eleven grandchildren. She has one son left at home and enjoys watching most sports, playing golf and is a BYU fan. All of her students agree that she has a warm smile and friendly manner and that Mrs. Peterson is a great asset to Orem High.

Steve Downey, More Than A Coach

Steve Downey is the head football coach and a Spanish teacher. After he graduated from Spanish Fork High School he spent a year going to school in Hawaii where he was on the BYU basketball team.

He served a mission in Mexico City, Mexico. When he returned from his mission he went to Snow College. There he became the Junior College All-American basketball player.

He graduated from BYU having worked his way through school as a summer firefighter for five years. He was marrried on Valentine's Day in 1979 and now has two children.

Mr. Downey coached football at Orem High for years. Due to personal reasons, he decided to resign his position as head coach. Mr. Downey, thanks for the many hours you spent helping your team strive for excellence and the numerous games that thousands enjoyed. You will be sincerely missed.

You're The Inspiration

This year we chose the theme, "You're the Inspiration", because we feel that the class of '85 truly did inspire great things from the students of Orem High

Our years at Orem High have allowed us to reflect back and remember how we admired the seniors of past years, knowing that someday we would be in their positions, setting the examples for others to follow

As we progress into adulthood, we will remember how our experiences at Orem High molded us into the individuals we have become Fhanks for your support in all that our class has achieved. Seniors . . . you're the inspiration!

Kevin Woolley, the walking brain of OHS, has excelled in academic programs, not only at Orem High but in state and national programs as well. When Kevin was a junior, he received a ceruficate for scholastic achievement. He was also a top semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Corporation

In the 1984 High School Chemistry Contest, Kevin placed third, adding yet another award to his collection, and he got a 32 on the ACT. While at Orem High School, Kevin involves himself in A.P. Chemistry, Biology, English, and any other A.P. classes he can find or think of

But, away from school, his interests vary. He par-1 enjoys reading. After high school, Kevin has big plans. Of course, he plans on attending college, majoring in Chemistry or Biology Kevin Woolley is an intelligeperson with a neat personality. With Kevin's talents and aspirations, he can go a long way

Graduation Anticipation

Gerry Fortham Kenneth Foster James Fowler

For all OHS seniors, the last week of high school brings relief, tension, and anxiety. Among other things, all sentors must have all graduation credits completed, and must soon decide the career they plan to go into

With one week separating the seniors from their ultimate goal of graduation, the excitement begins With the coming of Senior Sluff day, many of the soon-to-be graduates move into a state of shock as their coma sets in

OHS halls: A 3-ring circus

The halls of Orem High School find students doing anything they can think of to relieve the boredom and pressure of class. Just about everything is going on in the halls, all of it with minimum teacher supervision.

More than likely, an average Orent High student can be seen doing one of the following things while in the halls (A) making out, (B) occasionally fighting, (C) chewing the lat with a friend, (D) getting shoved in a locket, (E) lounging around in the lounge, (F) avoiding hall monitors, or (G) just walking around

If the student is not doing one of the previously me tioned activities, he or she is either doing something totally illegal or doing something unprinted in this yearbook

With all of these activities going on simultaneously in the overcrowded halls of Orem High School, one can't help but be entertained by the three ring circus. Since class periods are currently so long that you become unconscious at your desk, it's quite nice to know that you'll be kept awake by the eye opening sideshows going on in the famous. Orem High School halls.

must be spent, as well as sleepless nights to accomplish these goals. Those most fortunate to pass these classes. then prepare to take the exam-

Now only two obstacles stand in their way First of all, of course, they must pass the test, or all of their studying goes right down the drain. Secondly, any Advance Placement test taker must first pay an entry fee, which draws the line for poorer students. The cost this year is forty six dollars for a test. That can take a big bite out of anyone's checkbook. If one can get through all of this with a passing grade on the exam, give yourself a pat on the back. "Going Steady"

Remember when you were in Jr. High, the 'in' thing to do was to be going steady. Here at Orem High we alter the term of going steady. Instead of wearing each other's rings to make it official, we demonstrate our fondness of one another in the hall. Since these students are deeply in love few things separate one from the other. Quite frequently they find it impossible to part in order to go to class, so with the help of counselors and teachers schedules are altered in order to increase the students attendance. By having corresponding schedules these couples can then go to class and admire each other. The steadies of Orem High are not difficult to locate, you can find them casually strolling down the hall lost in love, or gazing into each others eyes as they share a twin sundae. Although most of these couples break up after four days, some last long enough to make it to the altar, only to break up after four years

Sterling Scholars 1984-85

Allison Fleming, Speech and Drama Sterling Scholar, truly deserves this award She has spent a major part of her life in various theatrical productions. Allison plans to major in theatre arts at BYU. During her schooling at OHS she has received awards for best acress best supporting actress, and has involved herself in Chorale, A'Cappella, and Orchestra Allison also played the cello as a member of the Utah Valley Youth Symphons.

Marcia Bennion. Orem's Music Sterling Scholar, is gifted in a number of ways. She is a talented pranist, clarinetist, and singer. This year she performed in the Young Artist's Concert, soloing on the prano with the Utah Valley Symphony. Marcia is also a member of Show and Chamber Choir. A'Cappella, and she plays the clarinet in Orem's Symphonic band. She has obtained such great success because of her determination to practice and study. Outstanding capabilities in music, a charming personality, and a good GPA are some of the remarkable attributes that made Marcia a Sterling Scholat.

Ellen Berrett, English Sterling Scholar, is an enthusiastic student with many talents. She was a member of Show and Chamber Choir and A'Cappella Performing in the school musicals was also one of Ellen's actual to a large state of the Orem High Seminary Council, and was also a member of Key Club, FBLA, and the National Honor Society

Bill Herlin, Mathematics Sterling Scholar, was the President of the Senior Class this year. He has excelled in both academics and sports A composite score of 31 on the ACI test, and a 3-98 GPA are evidence of his academic advancement. Bill has achieved in many sports. He lettered twice in baseball, baskethal and tootball and received All-State honors in football. He also had the opportunity to play on the Unit All Star Baskethall Congress International Team. A four-year trustee's scholarship to BYU has been offered to Bill. He plans on majoring in accounting

Tricia Grantham, Foreign Language Sterling Scholar, has studied extensively the French and German Languages. She enjoys her studies and hopes to travel and study abroad in Europe. Tricia was a helpful addition to the yearbook staff this year where she was a copy writer. She is also a member of the National Honor Society, and the French and German Childs.

Mike Salzetti, Industrial Arts Sterling Scholar, makes getting good grades look easy. Much of his spare time is spent in study for his classes. He has taken five AP classes and has passed both of the AP tests he has taken. Mike is ranked 6th in his graduating class. He is President of the Kev Club and is a member of the National Honor Society. He was also involved with Varsity soccer and wrestling. Mike has combined his scholastic talents with athletic abilities, to become an outstanding, well-rounded student at Orem High.

Julie Dowdle, Social Sciences Sterling holar, keeps very busy with her many school of community involvements. Her composite CI score of 32 and her perfect score of 5 on a AP history test are proof of her diligence the academic field. She was in the presidents of the Orem High Seminary, the Keylub, and the French Club. She has also had a experience of participating on Senator and Hatch's Youth Committee.

Joy Cook, General Sterling Scholar, keeps herself actively involved in church, community and school affairs. She has achieved in academics and sports. Joy is ranked first in her graduating class and is a valuable player on the volleyball, basketball and soccer teams. Some of Joy's involvements are with the Science and Spanish Clubs, Future Homemakers of America, the Key Club, and the National Honor Society.

Alene Workman, Visual Arts Sterling Scholar, has a natural gift and talent for art Among her favorite forms of art are pen and ink drawings, water color paintings, and pencil renderings. Alene is currently ranked second in her class and is an avid member of the Key Club and National Honor Society. With a schedule including three AP classes, Alene never seems to slow down.

Stephen Rogerson, Business Education erling Scholar, is very deserving of this more because of his involvement in business lated activities and classes. This year, he servas President of the Orem High Chapter of English IV, US Science. Damon presently employed as a cashier at Orem Band, the Nation taken several advisoress student from Orem to be chosen to attach the business Week at USU Outside the business department, he plays the cello the German Club

Damon Hedman, Science Sterling Scholar, is one of the most intelligent students at Orem High School. Among his accomplishments are 4 AP tests and 3 AP classes English IV, U.S. History, and Computer Science. Damon is involved in Symphonic Band, the National Honor Society, and has taken several advanced courses at Brigham Young University

Diane Nielsen, Homemaking Sterling Scholar, has worked hard for many years to achieve this award. She has spent long hours working on decorating, furnishing homes, building wardrobes, cooking, and sewing. All these efforts have molded Diane into a an ideal homemaker. She spends some of her time studying for her AP classes and working at the family business. Diane also participated in VCappella Choir and was involved in 4-H clubs for many years.

Evading a defender, Bill does his best to get more vardage

Bill Herlin

Reading his potential in virtually every aspect of schooling, Bill is a natural leader at Orem High School and the surrounding community

In athletics, he was unequalled. He lettered time in each of three sports, basketball, baseball, and football. Bill has won state honors and awards for his football performances and has played on the All-State football.

Of Bill, Coach Steve Downey stated, "Of all the athletes I have ever coached, Bill ranks in the top one percent. Not only is he an outstanding athlete, he is a very coachable, intelligent person."

Bill has been offered a scholarship to play football at Ricks College and he wants to major in accounting

Combining a score of 31 on the ACT and a tremendously high GPA with his Sterling Scholar Award in mathematics, Bill proved that "jocks on the academically successful also

As Senior Class President he did his best to make sure his fellow seniors had a memorable year. An athlete, a mathematician, a friend, and a student, Bill has made a name for himself here at Orem High School. Bill is certainly a deserving recognition of the senior of

Awards

As editor-and-chief of the Orem Forum, Kristin has a great deal of responsibility to make sure the newspaper is done right

Kristin Williams

'She is a conscientious, helpful member of the staff. When she was first injured and bed-ridden with her injury, she used to hobble into the newspaper room, do some necessary work, and hobble back home. She did a super is b," Steve Garrett, advisor of the newspaper staff.

It is this kind of dedication and energy that makes a candidate for the Tigerama Award. Kristin is a hard worker that succeeds no matter what the circumstances are. Although she had reconstructive surgery on her knee this year she still took care of her responsibilities and did well in her academic regular school work

She carried a load of 3 AP classes. AP History, AP English, and AP Biology. Balancing hard classes and other extracurricular activities keeps. Kristin very busy. She has been a member of the newspaper staff for three years and was editor in cluef this year.

Kristin was a star on the varsity basketball team and team captain of the varsity volleyball team. Unfortunately, Kristin injured her knee in mid-season and wasn't able to finish the games

Fellow students respect Kristin for the work she has done on the newspaper and in sports. She is a very deserving recipient of the 1984-85 Orem High School Tigerama Award.

'86 Has Class

As class officers, we are proud to represent the Junior class. It's been a memorable school year, and the Juniors have helped make many of the memories.

The class of '86 is exceptional. They have shown what means to have "Tiger Pride."

We appreciate your spirit and enthusiasm. It has made our job much easier.

Play It Again, Scott

During a break of a game a lone trumpeter rises from the band stand and begins to play. The crowd responds with a roaring "Fight! Fight, Tigers, Fight!" Who is this, that can excite a whole school with one song? It's none other than Scott Mansfield

Scott, a junior, is talented and intelligent. A look at his classes shows this He has two band clases, two AP classes. Pre the and Honors English. He also takes early morning seminary. Even with this schedule his GPA remains a solid 3-97.

After school Scott works with his uncle as a plumber. He also plays in the Utah Valley Youth Symphony. Scott enjoys playing in the band (which is obvious) His hobbies include water skiing, playing soccer, hunting and fishing. You can see him around town riding his six foot unicycle. After graduating from college Scott plans on being a doctor

No Scott is so busy, it is a miracle he can make it to the games to play So, next time you hear that famous tune. Fight' Fight, Tigers Fight," you'll know exactly whom the lone trumpeter is

The Spirit Boosters

As students fill the bleathers of A-gym, the Orem It—It School tand regime to play Staden receivement sit down in the bleathers and another classic pep rally begins

As the student body is led in cheers by the song and cheerleaders, each grade competes in various competitions. As expected, the seniors dominate the entire event. Cheerleaders throw out little plastic footballs worth sixty-nine cents. While the footballs are being thrown out, fans will go to any extreme to catch one

Tracheer goes now sund students need sector go to their classes

The mass is of students crowd the doorway, trying to exit the less and stuffy gym. Freshmen are trampled and instantly wounded. These fun-filled pep rallies tend to be successful and almost always promote a team victory.

This contest is for students with no more than one year of typing. Students are timed on typing perfect letters, tables, memos, and manuscripts. Before a student can compete nationally he or she must place "first" in their state competition.

Kathleen flew from Salt Lake City to Dallas—It Worth and then from there to Atlanta, Georgia, where she staved at the Hilton

To alleviate tension, the contestants went to an Atlanta Braves baseball game

The next day at the awards assembly, Kathleen didn't have much hope of finishing as one of the five finalists

Orem Students Do the Dirty Work

Between doing homework and attending various social events, the students of Orem High find time to demonstrate the pride they have for their school by having a "clean-up day." The work crew who made "clean-up day" a success were those individuals involved in different school clubs. Such as Key Club. National Honor Society and the Student Council

The day started at 8:00 a.m. PTA members assign ed students to do things, such as, sweep the tennis court pull weeds etc. After each group completed their assigned project, they moved on to another one

The Note Passing Kings

Meet me after ad period and we'll have lunch together Love Dave Although the previous quotation sounds rather stupid it is common-place among the inlar rous freshmen note passers. These freshmen have been passing notes since time began, and they have refined the delivery process down to an art. The methods of getting the note to someone else vary quite a lot, from handing the folded up message to the receiver, to crumpling up the note and throwing it to them. If these notes are intercepted. by curious snoops and read, the embarrassed, red face freshman tends to bow his head in sharp. The reason these treshmen are so embarrassed, results from the fact that these messages are incredibly mushy, almost to the point of repulsion. When the ultimate snoop, (their teachers) intercepts one of these notes and reads it aloud, it can crush a freshman and scar him psychologically Still, unsuspecting freshmen continue the vicious chain, either resulting in "true love" or the agony of defeat

Cathy James, an Orem High School discust thrower is strong willed and dedicated. She is mature in her attitude about competition, and is one of the strongest athletes Mr. Bird has ever coached. She seems to realize her great potential, and is not shy about setting goals.

Mr Bird say 'I have coached more girl state champions than anyone else in the state. In my 'humble' opinion, Cathy has the most potential, ever, by far than any other girl I have seen in this state

She was no 1 in the state List year and is working hard at being no. 1 this year, along with aspiration's of setting a new state and BYU invitational record

Proparing for the National T.A.C. meet, Cathy trains 4 to 5 days a week, Monday through Friday for about 2½ hours a day

Being a freshman wasn't much fun.

Scared, insecure, and ready to run.

But, being a sophomore is really a ball.

We're filled with confidence and feel 10 feet tall.

Our goals are becoming much more clear and we know where we're headed this special year. So look to this "Class of '87" We're the ones going straight to heaven!

Every year 1, oup of brave semors don female garb and turn into male cheerleaders. The reason they dress as they do is to lead fans in cheers for the powder puff football game. Numerous hours of these dedicated persons are spent to rehearse their performance, houng it down to clockwork accuracy. What makes these cheerleaders great is their ability to build pyramids and do the splits

Erin Fleming Maithew Fletcher Lonny Flygare

Their crooked wigs attract many and their skimps skirts shouldn't be overlooked. The two greatest attributes of an Orem male cheerleader are his bristly knobby legs, and the balloons which are stuck up his shirt

When all of these cute ingredients are mixed together, an incredibly attractive Orem male cheerleader is justified.

The Big Test

Myndi Jolley

It's Saturday morning, and you've stayed up hours studying for your first ACT test. Your fantasy is to get an unlikely 36, which is next to impossible. The registration alone took a good three hours to fill out, asking you dumb questions like whether you'd like to be a nuclear chemist in Southeast Nigera or not

As the test begins, you start to wonder why anyone in their right mind would pay $9.50 to take a four hour test. The test is finally passed out, and all of the runs syou heard about it were true. What is the capital of Zimbabwe? How long was the hundred year war? What is the length of the hypotenuse of side A?

Trying to answer these questions seems futile. Your pencil supply barely lasts through the English section, the eraser lists through question six.

What is everyone going to think of somebody with an ACT score of 12?

Completed the test with your friend's extra pencil your only thoughts are of doom

What Homework?

Pre Calculus, English 3 Honors, Biology Chemistry. These and many other advanced classes face the life of today's juniors. Desperately they try to cope with their schedule and maintain a social life. On top of that, many juniors try to keep jobs at the same time. These symptoms of "Schoolus Overworkus" lead to many red-eyed, half awake juniors each day. "Is it really worth it?" Many late night Snicker addicts ask. Probably not, but these slaves of required subjects keep trudging on, just to live an casy semior year.

Without Autombiles

From 11:00 a.m. until 12.50 p.m. Orem High students can usually be found at one of their favorite last food hang-outs. Few members of the freshmen class are privileged enough to find an upper classman whom will allow a freshman to dine and dash with them. Although rumor has it freshmen were seen being smuggled in a trunk as far as McDonalds, freshmen can usually be spotted heading either to the candy machines or to the dreaded lunch room. So next time you're strolling down A-Hall, listen for the pitter-patter of little lireshmen feet and then stand clear of the halls that tead to the lunch room.

This Isn't D-4

Throughout time, the freshman has habitually gone to the wrong class. A commonplace event sees a freshman walking into a class. Moments later, we see this same freshman running out of the class and into the resident where he can examprivate. After recovering from this traumatic experience, the freshman must then return to the same room to retrieve his books. By this time, the joker of the class has taken the books and placed them out of sight. When at last the books are found, the freshman has broken down into tears and heads for the restroom once again.

Students lucky enough to own a car don't care what it looks like as long as it has a radio. These jalopies that cover the Orem High parking lot are anything from 1939 Studabakers to 1973 Dusters and everything in between

When the moment arrives for you to make the pur chase of a mobile, take caution around those pushy salesmen who will try to get you in and off their lot for a mere $2500 dollar down payment. Also be cautious of those juniors trying to sell their first try at buying a car

The Frights of Feeble Freshmen

As the very first day of school begins, hundreds of a ling freshmen are seen lining up to lisk their to also us questions. Not one of them can find A-hall, many have already lost their schedules. They all cling to the sides of the walls, hoping that upper classmen won't step on them. Some freshmen get squashed, but most man all to get through the day with minor wounds. Daily this terr is to see freshmen as they wardy make their way to their classes grateful they re alive but wishing they were back in Junior High.

Neither cloudy skies, nor foul weather defers the deditated fans

The question is why do these students, friends, and families take the time to come to Orem Tigers' football games? The answer is that the Tigers are good. They are not only good, but great' What other team can excite the trowd into a frenzy with a final-second win at Homecoming? What other team beat the highest-ranked team in region with a blow out? Orem Tigers continually hold the opposite team at no points in the second half

Crowd spirit can be the deciding factor in a game. The team performs much better with 2,000 frantic supporters behind them yelling and screaming in support of the play. It's a nice arrangement. The fans cheer for the team, the team produces the excellent game, and once again the fans return home excited with the outcome of the game.

"Wendy's says they have the best hamburgers, but yours are a lot better."

-Marina Benson

"McDonald's, Wendy's, Burger King watch out — Hamburger World has arrived."

-Bob Simmons

"I would go 20 miles out of my way for Hamburger World's Fresh Fruit Shake."

-Karl Engemann

"I've eaten hamburgers all over the world, and this hamburger is the best I've ever eaten."

- Virl Osmond

"These shakes
are so thick and fruit-filled you
can't use a straw,
you need a
spoon."
